Old Business

Mr. Melis reported to the Board that the development of exam translations to foreign languages is underway, with a projected availability date of March 1, 2015. He stated that a small written exam fee increase is expected to be implemented on July 1, 2015 to cover the translation.

Examinations

Reports

Mr. Quesenberry provided a report from the Ad Hoc Committee on Career and Technical Education that last met on January 20, 2015. Mr. Quesenberry stated that among the goals of the committee are to address the insufficient training of students and increase communication with the Department of Education. He stated that the cosmetology vocational program is reviewed every 5 years, and that the review committee would consist of DOE representatives, cosmetology instructors, and Board members. Mr. Quesenberry further reported that the committee will be working toward increasing the training hours in career and technical education programs through the DOE, and implementing Board-developed curriculum and competencies.

Mr. Kirschner informed the Board that the revised Barbers and Cosmetologist Regulations are currently in the Governor's Office for review, and are expected to soon move into the Public Comment stage of the process.

Regulatory Review Report

Mr. Kirschner also reported that the revised Esthetics Regulations are in the Secretary's Office for review, and that the next step would be the Governor's review.

Mr. Melis reported that there were three bills before the current legislative session that directly impact the Board. The first was an agency bill to clarify definitions in the Code and to exempt the practice of threading from the cosmetology definition. The second bill under consideration was to change the training requirements for nail technician applicants to make the Virginia requirements more in line with surrounding states. Mr. Melis indicated that this bill was prompted by a constituent group's desire to ease the process of Virginia licensee's obtaining Maryland nail technician reciprocal licenses by bringing Virginia training requirements in line with Maryland's. The third bill addressed the issue of laser hair removal, by adding it to the scope of practice for Master Estheticians.

Legislative Report

Mr. Melis reported that all of the current bills have been 'tabled' for this General Assembly session. The Board's staff has been attempting to work with the state of Maryland, and will continue to do so, to identify if any obstacles to endorsing into Maryland from Virginia exist, and make reasonable efforts to address identified concerns.

Mr. Quesenberry asked about current regulations as they relate to laser hair removal. Mr. Melis responded that it is more so a statutory matter, the basis of which can be found in the Board of Medicine's statutes.

Mr. Kirschner reported to the Board that a letter was mailed to all Ear Piercing Only Salons on November 14, 2014 that included the regulatory requirements for licensed facilities.

Ear Piercing Only Salons

Mr. Kirschner provided the Board with an update on suite rentals and studio salons, which involves the practice of property owners/managers renting space to practitioners. Mr. Kirschner indicated that Board staff is developing a letter that will be mailed to owners/operators outlining the laws and regulations that pertain to the owners/operators and to the individual practitioners to whom they rent space. The individual practitioners must have salon and/or spa licenses for the space they rent. The Board engaged in a discussion covering the differences between suite rental and booth rental.

Mr. Melis asked the Board to respond to several recent inquiries regarding esthetic procedures:

Mr. Melis reported that dermaplaning, described as shaving to remove hair and a layer of skin, similar to microdermabrasion, but with use of a different mechanism and device. The Board's consensus was that dermaplaning is a function of a licensed master esthetician only.

Mr. Melis reported that micro-needling is the use of a roller with needles of various lengths used to penetrate the epidermis, and sometimes the dermis, to repair damage to the skin. He stated that, due to the needle length, there may be exposure to blood borne pathogens.

Ms. Tsamouras stated that micro-needling prepares the skin to allow a deeper penetration of serums and other products, with the use of a device that punctures the skin. The Board's consensus was that micro-needling falls outside of the scope of practice of esthetics.

Mr. Melis reported that eyebrow embroidering involves the use of a scalpel and/or embroidery pen (permanent cosmetic tattooing devices), as well as pigments/inks. The Board's tentative consensus was that eyebrow embroidering is a function of a licensed permanent cosmetic tattooer. Board staff will research the practice further and report back to the Board at the next meeting.

Mr. T. Jones reported to the Board regarding his review of the International Board of Medicine and Surgery's application for consideration as an approved provider of health education for tattooers and body piercers. Mr. Melis explained the background of the Board's guidance on health education. Mr. Kirschner noted that the document provides a list of certifying agencies, rather than being a comprehensive list of providers. Mr. T. Jones recommended that the Board deny the application.
