with faith-based and grassroots organizations to ensure under-resourced minority communities also had access to COVID19 vaccination and testing. Dr. Jaberri also helped Virginia Beach secure a $3.3M CDC grant to address health disparities needs of vulnerable people.

- Dr. Jaberri thanked the ACHDHE leadership and members for their dedication to VDH and highlighted the great work of Dr. David Rose. He recognized the talents of the directors and supporting staff at VDH including Office of Health Equity Director, Sandra Serna, ACHDHE support staff Augustine Doe.
- Dr. Jaberri told the ACHDHE members that addressing health disparity continues as a high priority for VDH. He then provided reflections on the recommendations provided by the ACHDHE relating to the January 2023 meeting presentations. (see below).

January 10, 2023, Acting Commissioner Reaction and Reflections to Recommendations Proposed:

- Recommendations on the presentation, VA 2023, General Assembly Bills Update:
  - Dr. Jaberri acknowledged the shortage of medical professionals and that healthcare scholarship programs are one way to address the situation. He mentioned one bill from the past General Assembly Session, which was intended to provide requirements for continuing education for healthcare providers on cultural competency and implicit bias. The bill was ultimately turned into a study that will be completed this year by the Task Force on Maternal Health Data and Quality Measures, and he looks forward to the report and recommendations. Dr. Jaberri will work with the Office of Health Equity to provide additional information on the outcomes of the General Assembly at a future meeting.
- Recommendations on the presentation: COVID-19 Best Practices & Lessons Learned
  - Funding is a priority for the federal government, and there are many conversations around how to support water infrastructure. The VDH Office of Drinking Water (ODW) relies heavily on such funds from the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency. Here at VDH, the Office of Drinking Water recently finalize a policy that brings $1million for small and disadvantaged communities.
- Recommendations on the presentation of Sickle Cell Disease Program Management:
  - VDH has partnered with VCU, Inova, UVA, and Carilion to strengthen the infrastructure for comprehensive adult sickle cell care in the central, northern, and western regions, respectively. We lack a partner in the Tidewater area and will continue to work to establish a partnership in the region.
- Recommendations on the presentation Pandemic Update:
  - As COVID-19 winds down and the public health emergency comes to an end, Federally Qualified Health Centers (FQHCs), Free Clinics, and local health departments will continue to provide access to vaccines and testing for those who are uninsured or underinsured. As COVID changes and a new variant emerges, public health will focus on ensuring that healthcare services are provided to those that need it most: vaccinations, testing, contact tracing, and outbreak investigation. We will ensure that the surveillance systems are improved.
  - In conclusion, Dr. Jaberri described the recommendations as solid and said VDH would progress on them in collaboration with the agency's stakeholders and partners. He then entertained questions.
  - An ACHDHE member asked if there is a way to ensure physicians at VDH receive training on implicit bias.

April 11, 2023, Meeting Minutes

- In his reply, Dr. Jaber framed the question of how we ensure the workforce provides better services in the community. He also broadened the question beyond VDH to include other providers in the community. Dr. Jaber suggested collaborating with academic institutions to address the situation but quickly highlighted that a set of standards determines graduate medical education. However, he is willing to partner in that effort.
